

Growers' Advisory Council Application Guide

The CBH Group is looking for passionate Western Australian grain growers with a desire and commitment to developing their co-operative, to join its Growers' Advisory Council (GAC). The GAC provides a formal mechanism for issues raised by growers to be fed back to CBH and its Board.

Following a review of the GAC Charter last year, a Councillor's term is now a single period of four years. Due to the expiry of terms of sitting Councillors, there are seven positions open to grower members this year. The total number of Councillors on the GAC is 16, and there is a minimum number of representatives required from each of CBH's five Districts.

Councillors are expected to attend meetings four times a year in Perth, with reasonable accommodation and travel expenses paid for.

Interested candidates will need to address the Selection Criteria and provide five referees (see information below). Successful candidates will be selected by a panel comprising of Directors and representatives from the GAC and CBH Group Management through an interview process.

Selection Criteria

Please address the below selection criteria in your application:

- Have a genuine desire and commitment to see the CBH Group continue to create and return value to growers and remain Australia's number one co-operative;
- Have the ability to be an advocate for the CBH Group Board to assist in the better communication of key strategic and/or operational issues with growers;
- Are willing to interact with grain growers and to provide a formal mechanism for issues raised by growers to be fed back to the CBH Group Board and management;
- Have the ability and/or knowledge to address issues of a strategic nature to the grain industry and to make appropriate comment/recommendations to the CBH Group Board and management; and
